

Inspired Science, Enlightened Business

The Edinburgh Science Triangle is one of Europe's leading science and technology locations and it's right at the heart of Edinburgh.

Edinburgh has a long history of innovation in almost all fields of human endeavour and enterprise. Over at least five centuries, in academic and financial institutions, in coffee houses, pubs and churches, it has nurtured some of the world's leading doctors, scientists, artists, writers, lawyers, engineers, architects and philosophers.

This inspiring tradition of innovation continues to thrive, and Edinburgh boasts many centres of excellence that attract the keenest and most creative minds to live and work in or close to the city.

Four universities, plus world-renowned research institutes, combine to make Edinburgh a world-influencer across numerous disciplines, including life sciences, informatics, micro- and opto-electronics and energy. Edinburgh is an acknowledged leader in technology convergence.
