

Edinburgh College of Art

Edinburgh College of Art is a specialist institution offering the widest range of undergraduate art, design, architecture and landscape architecture courses in Scotland as well as extensive programmes at postgraduate and research degree level.

The College has an international reputation as one of the most successful and popular independent art colleges in the UK, and was this year ranked by The Times in the top ten of British art schools. We pride ourselves on providing the highest quality of teaching and experience to our 1,600 students and offering a learning environment which is both stimulating and supportive.

Founded in 1907, but with a history dating back to the 18th century, the College is situated in the heart of Edinburgh's Old Town. Its studio spaces, including several north-facing studios with stunning views of the Castle, are among the largest working studio spaces of any UK art college.

Our staff are practising artists, designers, architects, curators and researchers, many with international reputations, and their expertise gives our students a head start upon graduating.

Students, graduates and staff regularly win the UK's most prestigious accolades and awards, and perform at the highest level of the arts at home and abroad.

Our students come from all parts of the UK and from all over the world, creating a truly international mix which gives a global dimension to our education programmes. We offer cultural exchange opportunities to study abroad at our numerous partner institutions and actively encourage all cultural and creative development.

The College is a partner in an academic federation with the University of Edinburgh, which validates and awards our degrees.
