Fastrack

Fastrack is the new part of the public transport system that sits between the existing bus service and rail services in Kent Thameside. The service will ultimately connect nearly all of the major existing and new developments in Dartford and Gravesend with core express routes on which only Fastrack services are allowed to run. Alongside enhanced bus services, Fastrack is designed to provide a frequent, reliable high quality service that will ensure people can get around – to work, to school, to play – even to London and the Continent with connections to Ebbsfleet International.

Since its launch in March 2006, well over 3 million passengers have used Fastrack, exceeding all expectations.

Two Fastrack routes are now operational (see map below) with two more planned. Passenger surveys reveal that some 19% of passengers would previously have used a car for the journey.
