The Historic Dockyard Chatham

The closure of HM Naval Base Chatham in 1984 left behind a 400 acre site containing the most important concentration of historic naval architecture anywhere in the world. Set in an 80-acre estate with stunning historic architecture, historic ships and museum galleries it is an ideal venue for business meetings and conferences with a range of options from the Commissioners House to the HMS Cavalier.

The Hop Farm at the Kentish Oast Village

Set in 400 acres of unspoilt Kent countryside, this once working Hop Farm is one of Kent's most popular tourist attractions. Exhibitions include hop picking in Kent, Shire horse Dray displays and impressive wartime tanks and vehicles. If you're looking for more usual business facilities, the oast houses within the Hop Farm provide a unique and unusual venue for all corporate functions, whilst the surrounding 400 acres of land are perfect for team building and activity days.
