

internationally renowned and working locally to support business

With its doctoral programme rated first in the world, Manchester Business School can give Manchester businesses access to over 200 academics.