

Town regeneration paves way for prosperity in Bury

As both a desirable area to live and work and located just eight miles north of Manchester's city centre, Bury is one of Greater Manchester's most popular areas.

Bury is participating fully in Greater Manchester's renaissance as a global knowledge capital and a growth area for the Northwest's regional economy. As such, Bury has become an ideal location for new businesses and existing businesses looking to expand.

Business formation rates in Bury are among the highest in the country and a strong culture of entrepreneurship is building on Bury's assets and forging new links with the city centre and other parts of the UK.

Education is hugely instrumental in Bury's business success and the area's schools and colleges are of a very high standard; motivating a high proportion of local people to continue their studies past age 16 and attracting learners from outside the borough, all of which helps to nurture a highly-skilled and ambitious workforce to continue Bury's development.
